The backface-visibility Property

This example shows the back face of two div elements.

This div element has "backface-visibility: hidden", and the back face of the div element is invisible:

DIV 1

This div element has "backface-visibility: visible", and the back face of the div element shows a mirror image of the front face:

DIV 2

Note: The backface-visibility property is not supported in Internet Explorer 9 and earlier versions. Safari supports it with a webkit prefix.
